Integrated Management System Policy

Mostaqbal implements best practice through our certified Integrated Management System which satisfies the requirements of ISO9001, ISO 45001 and ISO 14001 and our overall business policy and strategy.

Mostaqbal is committed to achieve high levels of satisfaction to its customers and associates by providing professional Engineering & Environmental services of top quality. The company is also committed to continuously comply and improve its services using pollution prevention and risk avoidance principles. Mostaqbal is also obligated to create a working environment free of accidents and injuries, and protecting the environment from all sorts of pollutants.

This is achieved through:

- Compliance with all laws, regulations, instructions, and specifications related to quality environment and occupational health and safety.
- Dissemination of positive culture about the quality of services provided and occupational health and safety, and the environment among all employees and clients
- Setting goals, programmes, and action plans that focus mainly on reducing the negative effects of the company's activities on the environment.
- Constantly making sure that the quality, occupational health and safety, and environment policy is posted to the public, and understandable to all.

This policy is communicated and obligatory on all employees of the company and other associates that deal with the company; and it is considered the essential guide to set quality, occupational health and safety, and environment goals to the company's methodology.
